the boundary of the property formerly scoupled by Mrs. Parnell's father, young Casey heard the moans of some ont apparently in distress.

Hurrying to the spot from which the sound issued, he found Mrs. Parnell lying beside the fence with her face covered with blood. By her side were two small pieces of board, a piece of fence paling about three feet long and a brick. Help was obtained, and she was carried to the house of Farmer Casey. Dr. W. H. Shipps, who was hastily summoned, made an examination and found that besides several bruises about the face, the woman had a lacerated wound on the right side of the head, from which the blood flowed freely.

Moke Murray Sentence for the execution of Dr. Robert Buchanan, which will probably occur on Monday. The British Ampassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote has refused to interfere, and in a communication to George W. Gibbons, Buchanan's attorney, says that in view of the fact that the highest tribunal in the United States has passed upon the case he could do nothing. Buchanan is practically resigned to his fate. He has given up all hope of a reprieve or a stay. As a last resort, however, his counsel will present the case before Gov. Morton to-day. Buchanan was yesterday searched and placed in a different cell, after all his old clothing had been taken from him, and new garments were provided. During a conversation he had with Warden Sage he said:

"If the worst comes to the worst, Colonel, I will go to the chair without a murmur, knowing I am absolutely innocated the crime for which I am to pay this awful penalty."

Last night he professed religion, and said when he was a student in England he was a member of the Scotch Presbyterian Church. He requested that he be attended in his last hours by a minister of that faith.

IRONSIDES, HOME OF MRS. PARNELLA As far as can be learned, Mrs. Parnell, who lives on the outskirts of Bordentown, walked into town yesterday afternoon to get a small check cashed.

It is supposed that she was followed by the assailants and when she reached a lonesome place opposite the entrance of the Ironsides mansion she was attacked.

County Prosecutor Budd, of Mount Holly, sent Detective Young to-day to work on the case. It is not known whether one or more persons were engaged in the crime. A suspicious-looking man was seen last evening loitering about the vicinity of the scene of the assault. He wore a light overcoat and a black derby hat, had smooth face, and was about twenty-two years of age. He has not been seen since the assault. The assailant

Three Years and Three Months is State Prison for Robbery. Judge Fitzgerald, in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions, this morning | Yorkville Court to-day, the first time

entenced George Murray, better known as "Moke" Murray, to three years and three months in State prison for grand larceny in the second degree.

Murray was convicted Monday for stealing a diamond scarfpin from a Broadway merchant, last December. He was defended by Lawyers Frank Moss and Thadeus B. Kenneson, of the Parkhurs. Society. Mr. Kenneson appeared with Murray in Court to-day and told the Judge that he had learned that the Society was mistaken in supposing that there had been a conspiracy among the police to shield or convict Murray.

Judge Fitzzerald announced from the bench what Mr. Kenneson had told him experiments for the police.

He charged the fair prisoner with feature for the head. The sight of his left eye is gone, and he can bare the other eye, and this only when he caises the lid with his fingers.
